Coaches Teach Players. We Teach Coaches.

March 29, 2010

Dear Coach,

For almost 15 years now, the National Soccer Coaches Association of America has encouraged its members to take advantage of our partnership with Premier International Tours (formerly known as Euro-Sportring).

Over the years, Premier International Tours' capable staff has managed and guided hundreds of American soccer teams, both on the youth and college level, as they have sought playing opportunities in Europe.

Whether you are looking to play in some of the top European leagues or seeking a series of preseason friendlies to prepare for the season, you can utilize the services of Premier International Tours.

Premier International Tours has a wealth of experience at all levels. Just a few of the colleges that have traveled with Premier International Tours in the past include the University of Florida, DePaul University, Fort Lewis College, Concordia University, Furman University, Wesleyan University and Metro State College of Denver.

No other organization has the breadth of contacts that Premier International Tours does. You will find their level of professionalism unmatched when it comes to arranging the details of your trip, finding the appropriate level of competition and even handling your requests for sight-seeing opportunities. Time has proven that our membership trusts and respects Premier International Tours. We have yet to receive a complaint.

If you haven't used their services in the past, please consider it. If you have used Premier International Tours before, I'm sure you will consider using them again.

Sincerely,

Joe Cummings
CEO & Executive Director
